POST IMPACT

In 2012, a meteor crashes into Siberia with the force of several thousand nuclear warheads. In 2015, a few survivors will travel into "the death zone", to try and locate a device that could give mankind new hope – or forever finish it...

In 2012, a meteor strikes Earth, causing earthquakes, tidal waves, and a dust cloud that soon covers most of the Northern hemisphere, turning it into an ice-covered "death-zone".

Three years later, most of the survivors have settled in the only habitable territories below the equator. It's a harsh life, with little hope of Earth's climate ever reverting back to normal. When an expedition plane to Europe is destroyed by a mysterious satellite signal, controlled from the ruins of Berlin, a city that was considered dead and buried – under 30 feet of ice and snow – the President of the New United Northern States orders a new expedition to find and destroy the base and the satellite. Tom Parker (Dean Cain) volunteers to lead a group of highly trained specialists on a suicide mission to Berlin – with ground vehicles, no reliable intel, and zero radio contact.

In the ruins of what was once one of the most dynamic cities in Europe, a desperate fight ensues for the power to change everything – for better or for worse...
